General Agents for the WEST POINT

BUILDING Co., LTD. Hongkong, 17th June, 1889. SHANGHAI DISTRICT. LOCAL NOTICE TO MARINERS, Wusung Bar Dredging Operations.

TOTICE is hereby given that on and, after the 19th instant, whenever the dredger Anding is at work, or in a position for working on the Bar, symbols will be hoisted at her masthead to indicate her position relatively to the line of Bar Marks, as follows :-ONE DIAMOND; to show that she is on the line of Bar Marks. ONE BALL: to show that she is in a position to the North of the line of Bar Marks. Two Balls; to show that she is in a position to the South of the line of Bar Marks. The Anding will as a rule be moored wit four, or possibly more, anchors, the positions o which will generally be marked by wooden spar buoys painted red. The buoys will be attached to the anchors by the shortest lengths of chain which it may be found practicable to use; as,

however, they are liable to be carried away, or ance cannot be placed on their being always It is further notified that the depth signalled from Harbour Master's Wusung Station is the depth in the Channel in the line of the Bar Marks: allowance is not made for the height of the mushroom anchors above the level of the bed; this may be taken to be about three feet. Night signals to indicate the depth will not be shown when the Dredger is on the Bar. It is however intended to remove her during the strong Spring tides in the summer mouths. Attention is again drawn to the necessity that all steamers should go dead slow when passing the Dredger, whether she is actually at work or not; and all responsibility for damage or less resulting from an infringement of this rule will rest with the offending vessel. E. V. BRENAN.

Hongkong, June 24TH, 1889.

In his inaugural address as President of the Hongkong Medical Society Dr. MANSON referred to "the absence of anything like organized medical attendance for the very large class of poor Europeans and Eurasians " in the colony. There are, he says, a great many matters affecting the local interests of the profession which require attention, Rules of H.B.M. Supreme and other Courts and this he instances as one of them. Common charity compels a doctor to visit sick person when summoned, but it is not unnatural that the members of the profession should feel it somewhat of a hardship that they should have to spend their time and energies in what Dr. Manson terms "a manifestly public work-work which in all wall organized communities is paid for and carried off about $300 worth of property. out of the public purse and entrusted to particular men." For the pauper class Dr. Manson would apparently have some system of public medical relief established. No one has better opportunities than a medieal man of judging of the necessities of the poor, and so careful a man as Dr. MANSON would not make the suggestion unless there were strong facts to warrant it. At the same time we must confess that it is with tows and 130 horse power, and is well adapted for some surprise that we learn of the existence of any considerable pauper element amongst the European and Eurasian communities. A considerable amount of non-affluence, not tion which we should be glad to see taken Capt. Carr will leave shortly after his arrival. up and acted on. "I do not see," he says, "why the poorer classes-not the pauper of weekly or monthly payments a fund from which the cost of medical attendance on their ciety might do something towards getting do something in bringing the cause of the opium ports against us. Complications would pauper class before Government." The fees What are the opium parts referred to P MELEOURNE ... Messrs. Norton, Hargrave & Co. | charged by medical men in Hongkong, while certainly nothigh for the well-to-do European community, are undoubtedly high if the poorer classes are asked to pay on the same scale. And the poor in this colony have no option but to run up bills on the same scale as the well-to do, to trust to the generosity

ing to a sick club in which the payment of a few pence a week will secure efficient medical attendance for themselves and their families. If the Hongkong Medical Society could do something towards getting up such an organisation in Hongkong it would confer a boon on the public and would relieve its own members of a good deal of unrempnerative and unpleasant work. There would then be their fees in any case where they remained unpaid, the forbearance to do which is, according to Dr. Manson, sadly abused in Hongkong. For the very poorest class, who could not afford to pay even a moderate subscription to a sick club, a free dispensary ought to be opened, either by the Government in connection with the Civil Hespital or by Penang with the steamer Medan in tow. The public subscription. .

This is Reuter's latest schieve ment. In the Ceylon and Rangoon papers we find the following among Renter's telegrams :-

LONDON, 5th June.

The terrific hurricane at Hongkong, with heavy loss of life and property, turns out to be untrue. The canard originated in the American press. But unfortuately the mischief was done in great measure. The telegram presumably appeared in all the home papers, and doubt- which virtually involved a double punishmen less caused a great deal of auxiety in the minds of those having relatives or business connections in this Colony. In the present instance, it is unfortunate the agent did not wire a short announcement of the great rainstorms of the 29th-30th ultimo, which no doubt gave birth to the extraordinary story of the "terrific hurricane." In the absence of any intelligence from his own agent Reuter should exercise the virtue of silence. No news is decidedly better than false or even exaggerated intelligence, and with the long experience enjoyed by Reuter's Agency there is absolutely no excuse for the circulation of canards such as the above. Before taking any news enough that it is his duty to test its authenticity, and this could easily have been done on this occasion by wiring to his agent in

> THE FAR EAST IN THE PARIS-EXHIBITION.

The Paris correspondent of the London Globe says that after Tunis come Tonquin and Annam. The building of the former is of an originality beyond conception. The roof resembles a heap of small boats piled over one another Round the basement is a row of bronze and car thenware idols. The whole construction is paint. ed in blue and red with gilt ornamentation. The Annamite pavilion is equally singular. It is formed of two large balls connected by covered galleries. It has a courtrard with fountain and temple enshrining Buddha. But neither of these dwellings is yet completed. Of a more consequential appearance is the Cochin-China structure, it is an exact reproduction of a palace at Saigon, but this is also in an unfinished state. Within a few yards stands a colossal pagoda from Cambodia, all red and gold. Strange to sav. it is in the from of with a central column tapering to the skies and surmounted with a gilt idol. Saints, hero and sphinzes figure in all the niches, while over the entrance are frescoss of scenes from the bistory of paganism. But it looks very trumpery ind, as a French lady by my side remarked, it s more like a piece mintee of pastry than a sacred temple. There are a number of native troops, including soldiers from Tonguin and Annam. The Tonquin and Annam troops are anything but imposing, and one wonders while gazing at them how they could have given the French so much trouble. They are mere boys in build-in fact, they might be taken for girls, and wear their hair en chiquon in such a perfect manner that the fair spectators are aleaten out of tin plates. The neighbouring tenement was inhabited by half-a-dozen girls going through their toilette operations, over which they took the greatest care, heedless of the indiscreet curiosity of the visitors who gathered round. After this we alighted on another humble dwelling, the home of an elderly workwoman, who was engaged in drawing or rather printing on calico with an indelible brown-coloured composition, which was kept hot on a little fire, and which she used by means of a pen-like instrument. Finally we reached what may be described as the bouquet-a raised but with an elegant THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE staircase, at the top of which were seated two Java girls dressed in full gala costumes. DEATH OF A MAN-EATER

"R." writes in the Civil and Military Gazette

-The celebrated Jonnsar man-eating tigress has met her deserts at last, under the most thrilling circumstances. This tigress, with her family of two or three, have bounted the Jounean orests, a few miles north of Chakrata, for the last ten years or more, and numerous are the viotims that have fallen to their insatiable cravissue the balance of the bonds up to 34 ing for human flesh. For years past it has been considered unsafe for solitary persons to travel over the hills she frequented; and the neighbouring hillmen invariably went about in large parties, and never except in broad day-light. Such was the terror this brute had inspired far and wide. With the incentive of a Government reward of R500, several attempts had been made from time to time to destroy the uncanny brood, and rid an otherwise charming country of her pestilential presence. But though one or two tigers have been shot in the district. the real man-cuter and arch-field herself was never met with and she carried on her manslaughtering propensities with impunity till a few days ago. 🐐 🔭 🧖 It was this tigress that Mr. Ormaston-not

The Forest school students who are now out in the district of Jounser getting practical instruction in Indian forestry, happened to be encamped at the Forest chowkey of Mundah, some 12 or 15 miles beyond the station of Chakrata. On the day of their arrival they heard of a buffalo killed close by but being middley, they placed a man on a tree to keep off vultures and crows, and intended returning themselves later in the evening to sit up for the tigress. Long before the appointed time, Mr. Ormaston and Mr. at Porwara Khan, the Deputy Commander-in-Hansard, the latter a student in the Forest Chief. What odd wills people make! An Austrian nobleman, Count Heinrich Hardegg, left £60,000 to the Vienna University the other day for the establishment of fellowships, but coupled it with the provisoes that the money should be left to accumulate for a hundred years, and that when the fellowships were awarded members of his family should have the preference. From which we gather that, in spite of his name, Count Hardegg was what they call in some parts of the country "only half-boiled."

Professor Blackie is a man whose natural force does not seem to abate with the years that fly past him, and the closing stage of his career seems to be the busiest. The "Song of Heroes," which is coming out, was actually written before the "Scottish Songs," which appeared some time ago. It seems to be a strange modley, for "the versatile ex-professor of Greek," to give him his favourite designation, has mixed up Abraham and Socrates, Casar and St. Paul. Alfred and Cromwell and Wollington in his poetio olla podrida.

It is rather a remarkable piece of information which the Russian journal Novosti puts before its readers. Heligoland is to be given up by England to Germany, and in return the Gor-mans engage to defend Constantinople against all aggressors. But there is one small condition besides; England is to conclude an alliance with Germany against France. The latter feature in the bargain might have been thought by some people a bigger thing than the cession of a little I islet, which is good for hardly snything but sea bathing, and that only for six weeks in the year.

> While in a very bad humour one day, an Ir colonal inspected his regiment. The officer for fault with everything. Forming the corps int square, he thus addressed the men:—" Me sinse have not decaived me, after all, and it is real! the diginirate ould Swillyboyne Rangers I have jusht inspicted. By Jupiter, 'two wance of twice, in shair constirnation, I asked mesilf, 'J it dramin', or woide awake, or naither ye are i By thunder, for all the world ye look loike soldie that had been hauled out ov the lumber room a waxwork show, an' no through taken in dhusti ye naither. Be jabers, I'll dhroive the rust ont or ye, although the operation takes me ti the ind of toime! I'll dhrill ye, the blackguar that ye are, until yer logs are worn down to stumps! I'm dishgushted wid ye, ashamed ov ye, the unwashed, unpoincolayed, unbrushed unpolished, nn-set-up, undisciplined Swillyboyr Rangers!"

By one of these unexpected turns of fortun which occur in Australia as often as anywhere a man who but half a dozen years ago was hod-carrier has become comparatively wealthy. This change of financial circumstances has had No less an authority than Sir William Gull the usual effect on the ex-hod-carrier's wife, who tiously announces whenever possible. Calling upon a lady whom she had been trying to make herself acquainted with, she picked up a book from the table, and innocent of any knowledge that it was a copy of the Bible, asked the loan of it for a little time, as "she had not the book in self down to business and insists on extracting of the volume with profuse manks, 17 per cent of "sweethin" out of the "sile."
